

We prevent disease. We champion innovation. And we cherish the bond that people and animals share. At Boehringer Ingelheim Animal Health USA Inc. our passion revolves around keeping animals healthy. More than 3,000 people power our U.S. animal-health business, in places that include Georgia, Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota, New Jersey and Puerto Rico. They make up the second-largest animal health company in the U.S. They also form part of a larger, family-owned company with a rich global history. Founded in 1885 in Ingelheim, Germany, Boehringer Ingelheim also focuses on human pharmaceuticals and biopharmaceutical contract manufacturing. Boehringer Ingelheim's animal-health portfolio includes some of the most highly regarded and broadly used vaccines, parasite-control products and pharmaceuticals to help protect pets and livestock from disease.